OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH & SAFETY

Tools for Your Toolbox:

Navigating Grief

Grief is a natural response to profound loss, affecting us physically, emotionally, psychologically, and spiritually. It is unpredictable and unique to each person, with no right or wrong way to grieve.

Helpful Tips for Dealing with the Grieving Process:

- Acknowledge your pain.
- Accept that grief can trigger unexpected emotions.
- Understand your grieving process is unique.
- Seek face-to-face support from caring people.
- Take care of yourself physically to support emotional well-being.
- Recognize the difference between grief and depression.

If you're having difficulty navigating grief, reach out to UVA FEAP:
