

At the University of Virginia, different types of respirators shall be used based on the respiratory hazards in the workplace. The most common respirators at the University of Virginia are shown in the tables below.

Below is FM-OHS approved respiratory protection equipment which are provided from Northern Safety & Industrial. <https://www.northersafety.com/>

Note: For ordering a new type of respirator, supervisors shall obtain FM-OHS approval before ordering to ensure that the selected respirator is designed to protect the employee from the respiratory hazards.
